

A FAIR GO IN AN AGE OF TERROR
Uniya's Jesuit Lenten Seminars 2003 & 2004
Edited by Patty Fawkner scs

“Australia must change its orientalist perceptions of Arabs, Muslims and Islam by undertaking concrete efforts to understand the ‘other’, become more tolerant of the ‘other’, accept the intrinsic value of the ‘other’, and avoid stereotyping and misrepresenting of the ‘other’...

Dr Mohamad Abdullah

“The morality of our engagement in the Iraq war cannot be left contingent only on two self-interested outcomes: one, whether our special relationship with the US bears fruit, and, two, whether we are more immune from onshore terrorist attack. And even if it were so contingent, the jury is still out on both fronts.
Truth and a more coherent morality of war may even yet be in our own short-term national interest in an Age of Terror.”
